Lenz products

The trade mark Lenz® stands worldwide for quality and reliability of our laboratory glass equipment.

With more than 10,000 standardized articles, we offer our customers a comprehensive range of glass instruments.

Beside our range of regular products and our products acc. to standards we manufacture special customized products.

With our machining and finishing capabilities we are able to optimize solutions to your requirements.

Processing laboratory articles round off our product range.

The outstanding characteristics of the material DURAN®, such as high thermal and chemical resistance, reliability and durability ensure the proven quality of our products.
